❖ Double Glazed Windows

Double glazed process in which a sliding or openable window is made by 2 panes of glasses & space between the panes. The space between the glass is usually several millimetres. Air is trapped between the panes of glass and forms a layer of insulation. It is ensured that no moisture is present inside the glass shutters .

Very Economical

- Around 65% of heat loss in our homes occurs through standard, single glass windows. Double glazing substantially reduces cooling or heat loss. The cost of the double glazing will pay for itself very quickly in the money you save from cooling bills. Once the double glazing windows has been installed, your electricity costs should decrease by around 14 to 25%.
